Areas for Improvement

- Technological Integration: While Gomathi effectively delivers her content, incorporating more technology into her teaching (e.g., multimedia presentations, online resources) could enhance student engagement further.
- Feedback Mechanisms: Developing more structured feedback mechanisms for students could provide insights into their learning experiences and areas needing attention.
- Seminars/ workshops: Contributing by engaging in research work and paper presentations in seminars etc.

Conclusion

Gomathi Jayantinathan has proven to be an exemplary educator, exhibiting high levels of professionalism, engagement, and commitment to her students' success. Her ability to maintain a 100% class attendance in key subjects is a testament to her teaching effectiveness and rapport with students. With minor improvements in technology use and feedback mechanisms, she has the potential to elevate her teaching to even greater heights.

Overall Rating: Outstanding

Recommendations: Continue to support professional development and explore opportunities for integrating technology into the classroom.

CERTIFICATE COURSE ON PROPERTY LAW AND TRANSACTIONS

Introduction:

The Course organized by the college on transfer of property was an initiative to provide opportunity for the students to interact with experts and to gain insights on the practical aspects of various modes of transfer of one's interest in a property. The Transfer of Property Act (TOPA) 1882 is codification that contains provisions for the transfer of both movable and immovable property, though a major portion of the enactment is applicable to the transfers of immovable properties. This report outlines the structure, curriculum, and outcomes of the GST certificate course conducted by JEEVANDEEP LAW COLLEGE, GOVELI from 11-03-2020 to 14-03-2020

Course Overview

Institution: JEEVANDEEP LAW COLLEGE, GOVELI

Course Duration: 4 days

Mode: Physical sessions conducted for the students.

Target Audience: Students of SYLL.B./FYLL.B./TYLL.B.

The course curriculum is designed to provide an overview of the actual process and formalities of transferring one's interest in property, whether movable or immovable.

The four day certificate course introduces the students to the documentations involved, the authorities and compliances involved in a transfer.

DAY 1

Day one of the course started with lighting of the lamp, introduction and felicitation of Mr. V. Vishwanathan. He started the lecture of day 1 with overview of Property Law and Transactions that included Transfer of Title, Components of a sale agreement, drafting key clauses in sale contracts etc. Sir discussed a sale agreement, operational clauses therein with examples of several agreements. The day ended with question answer session of the day's topics. A lot of questions were asked by curious students like the importance of certain clauses in the agreement, what is a mistake has to be rectified after the agreement is registered, the importance of date of possession in a agreement for an under construction building etc.

DAY 2

The second day of the course commenced with interesting topics related such as

- Introduction to Mortgage Law.
- Rights and Obligations of Mortgagors and Mortgagees.
- Legal distinctions: mortgage vs. deed of trust.

The second half of the day touched upon topics like mortgage documentation and procedures, and a sample mortgage agreement was discussed to better understand the operational clauses and concluded with Q&A session.

DAY 3

On day 3 Vishwanathan sir took up the topics related to

- Fundamentals of Lease Agreements.

JEEVANDEEP LAW COLLEGE, GOVELI

(AFFILIATED TO MUMBAI UNIVERSITY & APPROVED BY BAR COUNCIL OF INDIA)

- Leasehold Interests.
- Drafting and Negotiating Lease Agreements.
- Types of leasehold interests: fixed-term, periodic, at-will.

Lease, being an important topic of transfer of property, the rights, duties of the lesser and lessee were discussed at length. The second half of the day continues with drafting of lease agreement. Make case laws were discussed wherein an agreement with a little other than 'Lease' were held to be a lease depending on the wordings and context of the entire document.

The day concluded with Q&A session with lots of questions on difference between lease and leave and license.

DAY 4

On the last day of the course the topics discussed were Integrated Case Studies and Practical Applications. Further analysis of real-life cases related to sale, mortgage, and lease.

Drafting a sale agreement, mortgage deed, and lease contract were presented and discussed. The requirement for registration, implications of non-registration, stamp duty, adjudication of documents etc were discussed. Lastly the Ethical considerations in property transactions like accurate information about properties and disclosure of any conflicts of interest were enumerated.

Outcomes

Feedback from Participants: The course received an overwhelming positive feedback for its comprehensive coverage of the topics and practical insights in various nature of property transactions.

Success Rate: All participants passed the assessment successfully, demonstrating that the learning was effective with positive outcome..

Impact: The Student participants reported that the overview of the subject has given a good insight of understanding Property Law and related Transactions.

Conclusion

The Certificate Course on Property Law conducted by Jeevandeep Law College, Goveli equips students with the necessary knowledge to try and understand an important aspect of property transactions, its legality, implications and short comings. Such courses play a crucial role giving student exposure to a law and its implications which have an enormous implication in the society. The success of this Course further motivates the committee to take proactive steps in arranging more such events and thereby extending the benefits to the students.

By the end of the course, participants had developed a stronger grasp of legal communication, both verbal and non-verbal, and expressed satisfaction with the valuable skills they acquired throughout the training.

Principles of Effective Communication Development that were emphasized:

1. Clarity: Use clear, simple, and straightforward language. Avoid jargon or complex terms unless the audience is well-versed in the subject matter.
2. Consistency: Ensure that all facts, legal references, and information are accurate and up-to-date. This builds trust and reliability in communication.
3. Brevity: Be concise and to the point. Communicate without unnecessary details, while ensuring that the message remains clear and comprehensive.
4. Emotional Intelligence: Recognize, understand, and manage both your own emotions and those of others. This enhances empathy and helps in navigating complex interpersonal interactions, especially in legal communication.
5. Patience: Allow time for others to process the information you provide and respond thoughtfully. This helps to foster more meaningful and effective communication.

These principles serve as the foundation for developing strong communication skills in a legal context.

Outcomes:

- Clarity of Language and avoid jargon.
- Parties can clearly outline their role while performing their duties.
- Clear and precise language helps prevent ambiguity.
- Ensure all facts and legal references are correct and up-to-date.
